ADM. DA CANA TAUCHT A LESSON.

Rebel Admiral Notified That His Recaiese Firing Must Be Stopped
-The People Greatly Excited.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 80. - Yesterda was one of the most exciting days that Rio de Janeiro has experienced since the commencement of hostilities between the insurgents and the Brazilian gov-ernment. The United States inval fleet stationed in this harbor fur nished the excitement. Provoked be-yond the endurance of patience by the continued carelesaness of the gunners aboard the rebel warship Aquidaban and tired by the indfference shown on the part of the revolutionary admiral to all his protests that American vessels entering and leaving the harbor were not afforded proper protection by the rebel fleet, Adm. Benham made a dem onstration with the American war ves sels under his command which has taught a much needed lesson to the belligerents on both sides and which will undoubtedly have the effect hereafter of securing proper recognition of the rights of vessels under the Ameri-can flag. In the events of yesterday the foreign colony was particularly inter ested, and the action of Adm. Benhau essed, and the action of Adm. Benham will furnish a precedent by which the commanders of other foreign vessels in this port will be guided in the future. The cause of all the trouble was the treatment to which three American barks were subjected on last Saturday by the indiscriminate fusilade from the insurgent warships. The American vessels were the bark Amy, Capt. Blackord, built in Bath, Me., in 1883, and owned by W. S. Wilson; the bark Good News, Capt. Myrick, built in Baltimore in 1889, and owned by C. Morton Stewart & Co., and the bark Julia Rol-lins, Capt. Kiehne, built in Baltimore in 1884, and owned by Toomas Rollins, of that city.

The Amy sailed from Baltimore or December 9, and arrived here last Fri-day. The Good News arrived in Rio harbor on January 3 from Bahia. The Julia Rollins arrived here on January 23 from Baltimore, from which port she left on December 4. On Saturday last, while lying at anchor all three vessels were endangered by the chance shot fired by the insurgents. The bullets whistled through the rigging and passed the men upon the decks. of the crews of the three vessels nar owly escaped being shot.

After suffering a great deal of an oyance and running great risks in the hope that the insurgents would realize the folly of their action and stop their reckless fireing, the three captains held a hurried conference and deter-mined to appeal for protection to the United States warships and to request that the barks be given an escort to the wharves Capts Kiehne, Myrick and wharves Capts Riehne, Myrick and Blackford put off in small boats, at great danger to themselves, and pulling up to wh re the flagship New York was stationed asked that they be allowed a conference with Adm. Benham. Upon stating the object of their visit their request was readily granted and they went aboard the New York. Adm. Benham listened attentively to their story and appeared to take the great est interest in it, and when the cap est interest in it, and when the cap tains had finished their statements he promised that he would do everything in his power to afford them the fullest protection. He said, however, that be fore making any display of force on the part of his fleet, or giving the cap-tains the escort which they requested, he thought it only right to first notify he thought it only right to hist notify the insurgents' admiral, Adm. da Gama, of the captains' complaint. Per-haps, he said, as a result of his notifi-cation, da Gama would promptly order his gunners to stop endangering Amercan ships and this would terminate all further cause for complaint. Accordingly Adm. Benham sent one of his officers to the Aquidaban with orders to acquaint Adm. da Gama with the facts end put to the reckless gunning Da Gama was apparently in a very bad humor when the American officer arrived on board and with many ex clamations of impatience, he listened to the recital of the captains' grievance. He was evidently still an over the unsatisfactory conferences which he had held with Adm. Benham. and was indisposed to do anything which would prove pleasing to the commander of the United States fleet. commander of the United States neet. When the American officer had finished making his statement, da Gama with a shrug of his shoulders said, in a very charatone: "It is not my fault. The sharp tone: "It is not my fault. The American ship captains should know enough to keep themselves and their crews out of the range of our guns. I shall not take any notice of this mat-

This curt response to his message aroused the ire of Adm. Benham, and he determined to make a showing that would produce a lasting effect upon the insurgents. Early yesterday morning, therefore, the greatest activity pre-vailed on board the fleet. Shortly after daybreak the decks of the flagship New York, of the Newark, San Fran cisco and other United States war ves-sels were cleared for action and their anchors were raised.

Adm. Benham then sent word to the captains of the Good News, Julia Rolthat the service consideration to bessel five per cent. bonds was debated in the senate on the filt and finally went over without action. A res lution in regard to civil service reform was agreed to. The federal elections repeal bill was informally laid aside at the request of Senator Peffer. In executive seesion the president sent in the nomination of William H. Peckham of New York for associate justice of the supreme court and the senate soon adjourned... The house had under consideration all day the sugar schedule of the tariff bill and the debate was prolonged, and after some wrangling, by a vote of 135 yeas to 69 mays the bounty on sugar was aboished. The bill was further debated at the night sension.

In the senate on the fild Mr. Turple, from the foreign committee, reported a re olution that it is unwise and inexpedient to consider at this time any project for the annexation of the Hawalian islands and asked its immediate consideration, but Mr. Teiler objected and the resolution went over. Senator Stewart spoke in favor of Senator Peffer's resolution denying the right of the secretary of the treasury to issue bonds. The federal elections repeal bill was taken up and Senator Wilson (Ia) spoke against repeal. Senator Chandler suggested that the bill go over until the first Monday in December, but the suggestion was not accepted and the senator spoke against the bill. After some talk on the Ha atlan and other questions the senate adjourned... by a vote of 155 to 88. At the night session a number of speeches were made for and against the bill.

The senate on the 28th devoted some time to the discussion of Senator Chall's public land resolution and then debated the elect in repeal bill. Senator Chandler again moved to jostpone consideration of the bill until December, but met with defeat. Peoding debate on the bill the senate went into executive assistent and then adjourned until Monday... The house resumed the tariff debate with a number of New York democrats fillbusiering against the income tax proposition. The resolution of Mr. Balley (Tex.) expressing it as the sensiment of the committee that the secretary of the treasury has no authority under the resumption act to use the proceeds of the scale of houds to pay carrent expenses was favorably reported from current expenses was favorably reported f

The house further considered the tariff bill in committee of the whole, and the debate was practically closed so far as the customs schedule is concerned. There was a great deal of de-mand from both sides of the house for recogni-tion for the purpose of offering amendments, but Mr. Wilson had the floor and not one of them got in At least 190 amondments were shut off. A series of amendments to the m tal schedule, all making reductions, were agreed to, and the committee reversed its action of a week ago and fixed the time for free wool to go into effect on August 2 and the woolen goods to go into effect on December 2.

Skull Cap: at Funerals. Since the prevalence of la grippe the risk of outdoor exercise has multiplied. Many cases of severe illness and not a few deaths have been reported from this cause. The most common occa-sions of danger have been during at-tendance on funerals, either as pall-bears or mourners. In well conducted funerals, undertakers nowadays frequently furnish skull caps to be worn by pall-bearers. The skull cap, al-though it has no visor to protect the eyes, is, nevertheless, an efficient cov-ering, does not offend our sensibilities ODD FELLOWS AT OUTS.

De Boissiere Odd Fellows orphans' home at Silkville, Franklin county. The suit was instituted by eighty-nine lodges. There are 446 lodges in the state, and all appeared willing to pay the assessment except the plaintiffs in this case. The hearing has been set for February 14.

Grand Master Campbell says that work is progressing on the home, notwithstanding the suit. He thinks the home will be ready for occupancy in ninety days.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humor). He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston. Send postal card for book.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the right quantity is taken.

When the lungs are affected it causes shooting pains, like needles passing through them; the same with the Liver or Bowels. This is caused by the ducts being stopped, and always disappears in a week after taking it. Read the label. If the stomach is foul or billous it will cause squea mish feelings at first.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it. Dose, one tablespoonful in water at bedtime. Sold by all Druggists.
